

I came to Kawartha Heritage Conservancy to complete a work practicum placement as part of my 4th year at Carleton University. Throughout my stay with KHC I completed work on the RT08 project and geologic features of the Kawarthas project. I was also fortunate to be able to visit some of the properties obtained by KHC and participate in a youth outreach program geared for the youth of Stoney Lake. From the moment of arrival at KHC I was warmly welcomed and introduced to the staff and wonderful work being done by KHC. Learning about the efforts of the team and the goals they have been able to achieve in only a few years, I was more than delighted to contribute and was thankful for the opportunity to work with such accomplished individuals.

This experience has brought encouraging hope and demonstrated to me how the efforts of a few can achieve much. The drive and determination of these individuals is extremely remarkable and I have come away with not only practical work experience but motivation to get more involved in conservation efforts.
